VOL. III. SECOND SERIES.

APRIL TO OCTOBER, 1825.

Monthly Magazines have opened a way for every kind of inquiry and information. The intelligence and discussion contained in them are very extensive and various; and they have been the means of diffusing a general habit of reading through the nation, which, in a certain degree hath enlarged the public understanding. too, are preserved a multitude of useful hints, observations, and facts, which otherwise might never have appeared .- Dr Kippis.

THE present number completes our first Volume of the ATHENEUM, and it will be gratifying indeed if our exertions to render it acceptable to its patrons, have succeeded; which, from the gradual increase of subscribers during the short time it has been under our care, we are induced to hope is the fact.

To those who have assisted in its circulation, we tender our grateful acknowledgments, and promise no exertions shall be wanting on our part to render it a useful and entertaining work.

The price of the work is five dollars per annum; it is published semimonthly, in Nos. of 40 pages, large octavo, each, containing a greater quantity of matter than any periodical publication in the United States, at the same price. Its frequent circulation gives it a decided advantage over those published only monthly or quarterly.
